The Phoenix Convention, now in its fourth year, is a literary event with an emphasis on the genres of science fiction, fantasy and horror.

The Guest of Honour for P-Con IV is award-winning writer and commentator Kim Newman. Winner of this year's Horror Writers Association Bram Stoker Award in the non-fiction category).

Joining him as guests are: Ariel (editor of the Alien Online), Michael Carroll, Paul Cornell, Diane Duane, George Green, Paul Kearney, Conor Kostick, Oisín McGann, Ken MacLeod, Juliet E. McKenna, Deborah Miller, Leah Moore, Peter Morwood, C.E. Murphy, John Reppion, John W. Sexton and Charles Stross, with more guests to be announced.

The venue for the 2007 convention is Wynn's Hotel, in the heart of Dublin, a city renowned for its literary giants. The event is a great opportunity to meet and mingle with some of today's greatest authors, as well as the up and coming greats.

The Phoenix Convention is a mixture of discussion, chat, serious debate and not forgetting the fun & craic. Topics covered in prior years covered subjects as diverse as Dr. Who, colonisation of space, publishing, writing for young people and the meaning of Squee. So register now to become a member of P-Con IV and we'll see you there in 2007. More details on the convention website at www.slovobooks.com/pcon4
